Our Vision Statement: The Laurieton Men's Shed aims to be the venue of choice for men of all ages in the local community; to share their interests, skills and ideals in a spirit of mateship and a place to benefit their health through participation in a variety of activities with a sense of belonging.

It's that time of month again. The General Meeting of members is next Tuesday, the 18th Feb. And guess what? YOU ARE INVITED. Come along before 10 for a catch up with others and with what is happening in your Shed. The meeting starts at 10.30. Don't forget to sign in and out and polish up your Name Badge. C U there! There will be a report regarding Banners. The Treasurer will tell us how we are doing, money wise. I am one of the Beekeepers at the shed.
"I am also a member of "Hastings Fly Fishers" & at the last Shed meeting I made the offer of demonstrating some Fly Tying. So, I am planning to do the demo on the morning of the next shed meeting Tues. 18th, starting at 9.00am for an hour or so 'tying' Saltwater & Freshwater flies".

There is a small bunch of blokes who meet most weeks and have fun leaning new songs which they then perform at a number of places. In March, they are off to two 'gigs' in Taree. Then Laurieton, then April in Port M. Any choir member will tell you that they can't sing, but put them all together, and they sound great. They practice at 9.30 before the monthly meeting. Turn up and have a go. Surprise yourself. Call Clem: 65598842

The Shed, or more correctly a couple of men, plan to turn this... Into this...
'This' being an outdoor kitchen unit, with sink, cupboards, bench space. It will go to a local Pre-School. Another community project.

Two men discussing a "wood library". A 'What?? Each piece on the board is a tagged piece of wood. Each piece different, and named. How many different species of wood can you recognize?
A LMS project: ???

Peter's not 'puzzled'. He knows what this is, but where does it fit? As you piece together each puzzle, you're not just creating a masterpiece; you're enhancing your problem-solving skills, attention to detail, and cognitive function. Want to try. There are several in the big room. Grab one before they all go???

The Talking Dog: A man sees a sign in front of a house: "Talking Dog for Sale." Intrigued, he knocks on the door and asks the owner if he can see the dog. The owner nods and calls the dog over. The man asks the dog, "What's your story?" The dog responds, "I used to work for the CIA, gathering intelligence. I've traveled the world, saving lives." Amazed, the man turns to the owner and asks how much he wants for the dog. The owner replies, "Ten dollars." The man, shocked, asks why so little. The owner shrugs and says, "He's a liar."

A man happens upon a toilet and knocks. "Come on in, it's a two-holer," the farmer inside says. The man enters to do his business. Finishing up, a handful of change tumbles from the farmer's pocket into the fetid hole. Cursing and grumbling, he opens his wallet and throws in another $5 bill. "Why the hell did you do that?" the man exclaims. "I'm not going in there for just thirty-five cents."

A blonde man shouts frantically into the phone: "My wife is pregnant and the contractions are only five minutes apart!" "Is this her first child? Asks the doctor. "No" he shouts, "this is her husband!"

Don't forget the Meeting next Tuesday! 10.30 start. Bring your questions, your concerns, your ideas, your best manners, your name tag and your $2 for the tin, and don't forget to sign in AND out. Plenty of time to talk and catch up before the meeting. And time to have a wander around the Shed, to see what is going on. It's your shed, and can only be as good as the men make it. And let's keep in touch with each other. So, see you there?

Two blonde men find three grenades, and they decide to take them to the police station. One asks: "What if one explodes before we get there?" The other says: We'll lie and say we only found two."
