Multiple alternate periods of rain and sunshine over Saturday and Sunday did not deter the shoppers searching for bargains. Eager buyers gathered outside the gates on Saturday morning, ready for the stampede to find the popular items. After the expected initial rush there was a steady stream of customers through the day. Sunday sales were slower, as is usual, but still worthwhile.

The initial tally of the cash takings indicates a good result from what is becoming a popular event in the Camden Haven area and a major source of income to keep the shed running. Thanks to all those who contributed to the success of the sale.
